

If you grade discussion forums with rubrics or type activity comments back to the students while using Open Grader to grade forums, you need to follow these instructions in order for students to view the graded rubric and your activity comments.

Problem:

After the due date set by restricting access to a discussion forum has passed, students cannot go to their Open Grader and see your graded rubric or any comments you put in the Activity Comments window.

Solution:

After grading the forum change the “must” choice in the restrict access setting to “must not.” (Although a student could post to the forum if this is done, it won’t matter since you have already graded it.)
