

Set restrict access date for Moodlerooms Forums

Issue 1: Forums do not have a “due date” setting to prevent students from posting/replying after your due date like assignments and quizzes do. The Restrict Access date is the common method to do this for forums. Instructions are below.

Issue 2: If you use a Moodle rubric and/or include activity comments when grading forums in Open grader, students can't see the graded rubric or activity comments after the restrict access date. Check out this link to know how to solve this issue.

Issue 3: Since there is no “due date” setting for forums, no due date automatically appears in the Deadlines area on a student's My Courses page like assignments and quizzes do. Check out this link for an easy solution.
