

View rubrics before submitting an assignment or after your work has been graded

If your instructor has included some type of rubric to grade an assignment, you can view it before working on the activity as well as after the assignment has been graded. Looking at it before submitting your work will help you know the exact criteria your instructor will use to grade the assignment.

These examples demonstrate the different types of rubrics that may be used.

Sample 1
Part 1	Explained the global considerations for today's business environment in one c competition. Maximum mark 30
Part 2	Explained the global considerations for today's business environment in one c competition. Maximum mark 30
Part 3	Explained the global considerations for today's business environment in one c competition. Maximum mark 30
Grammar, spelling, punctuation, and capitalization. Used correct grammar, spelling, punctuation, and capitalization. Maximum mark 10

Sample 2
Original Posting	Student did not respond to the questions or questions specified in the assignment. 0 points	Student partially responded to the questions or directions specified in the assignment. 7 points	Student directly responded to the questions or directions specified in the assignment. 2 points
Understanding	Student did not show evidence that he/she read and understood the assigned reading selection. 0 points	Student partially showed evidence that he/she read and understood the assigned reading selection. 7 points	Student showed evidence that he/she read and understood the assigned reading selection. 2 points
Examples	Student included 1 or less examples and/or specific ideas in regards to the topic listed. 0 points	Student included 2 or 3 examples and/or specific ideas in regards to the topic listed. 7 points	Student included more than 3 examples and/or specific ideas in regards to the topic listed. 2 points
Quality	Student did not demonstrate professional depth and quality. 0 points	Student demonstrated adequate professional depth and quality. 7 points	Student demonstrated outstanding professional depth and quality. 2 points

Sample 3
Completeness
Included all required items	4 points
Used correct spelling	3 points
Used correct grammar	3 points

To see the rubrics (before or after submitting your assignments), use Moodlerooms Grader

Also, many instructors leave special comments to you in Moodlerooms Grader. And you can leave comments to the instructor.

The screenshot shows the Moodle Course Dashboard for 'Donald Duck'. A red box labeled 'Click Course Dashboard' points to the 'Course Dashboard' link at the top. Another red box labeled 'Click Moodlerooms Grader' points to the 'Moodlerooms Grader' icon in the dashboard. A third red box labeled 'Choose assignment.' points to the 'Chapter 1 Assignment' dropdown menu. A fourth red box labeled 'Click to see scored rubric' points to the 'View grading marking guide' button in the grading interface. A fifth red box labeled 'Read instructor comments.' points to the instructor's comment from Pamela Denney. A final black box labeled 'Leave a comment to the instructor here.' points to the comment input area at the bottom of the grading interface.