

Resubmit assignments before they are graded

If you realize you have made a mistake on an assignment after submitting it but before it has been graded, you can change it. The process depends on what type of assignment it is. Instructions below are for the two most common types of assignments.

Online text assignment

If you typed your assignment right in Moodle, you can edit your submission by going back to the assignment. Follow these steps:

Click the name of the assignment.

Submission status

Submission status	Submitted for grading
Grading status	Not graded
Last modified	Thursday, November 16, 2017, 2:16 PM
File submissions	MLA Example.docx
Submission comments	Comments (0)

Click the Edit submission button.

Make changes.

After changes are made, click the Save changes button at the bottom.

Resubmit assignments after they are graded

Generally, you are not allowed to resubmit an assignment after it has been graded. However, if you discuss your situation with your instructor, and your instructor agrees to reset your assignment, you can resubmit using the same methods as shown on this page.

Upload file(s) assignment

If you uploaded one or more files for an assignment (such as a saved MLA formatted document you typed), you should be able to delete previously uploaded files and/or upload other files as long as the assignment hasn't been graded. (This capability is set by your instructor. If you can't do this, contact your instructor.)

Click on the assignment link.

File submissions

Click the file and follow the prompts to delete the wrong file.

Upload the correct file by clicking the Add button or dragging and dropping the file.

You can drag and drop files here to add them.
